

In-Company Coaching (ICC)

Why In-Company Coaching

On the level of management, there is a need to get teams on the same page with the managers. How do you get 'your people' into the direction you want them to move?

The key is an engaging communication style, every time you speak. If you master that, it will provide you with amazingly better results in getting your team moving with you! To acquire those skills, In-company coaching by Presentation-Master might just be the answer for you, and give the boost that is needed.

Content of the In-Company Coaching program

You can choose out of a variety of different communication trainings, but Presentation-Master goes beyond 'just' a training. We cover the whole area of speaking, beyond tips, tricks and just improving skills. Presentation-Master will coach groups with the maximum size of 10 participants in four sessions of four hours. Hands on, coaching on the spot.

Session 1

- Introduction to 'Presenting with impact with EASE'
- Exercises

Session 2

- What is your unique style and strength in presenting?
- Coaching for all participants

Session 3

- How to craft presentations with impact
- Providing a structure that works for every presentation you will give in the future

Session 4

- Final presentations of 10 minutes by all participants

If all is implemented, we will celebrate the results by handing over the personal certificates 'Presenting with impact'.

Practical information

The sessions each take 4 hours, with a preparation time of 2 hours in advance.

The financial investment is € 4995.- excl. 21% VAT per session, with a minimum of 6 and a maximum of 10 participants.

Location

The In-Company Coaching will be at a location of your choice. If you want this to be on a location outside your company, we will charge additional venue costs.
