Why Masterclasses?

For people who want to take part in more than 'just a workshop' about presenting, Presentation-Master gives you the unique opportunity to attend our Masterclass: Presenting with impact.

This Masterclass is based on our professional speaking system: The E.A.S.E method.

Communication experts, team leaders, managers, business owners, and sales professionals, they will all experience the enormous increase of their impact in speaking in the field of their expertise.

Content of the Masterclass program

Together we start on a journey. On the way we discover how to keep up the energy within you, and how to keep the interaction with your audience on an attractive, effortless level. We take a closer look at your motivation and drives, and how that is affecting your speaking qualities.

Further, we will examine how you sound, how you look and how you come across. This is real eye opener to many participants.

Last but not least, we discover your true voice, we show you on the spot how you can transform from just looking good, to create real impact in your speaking and presenting.

All exercises will be recorded for your own benefit. After the Masterclass we provide you with a personal performance plan, so you know what to do with your personal strength in the future.
